

It's the genuine article for Innovative Technology

Cork Griffiths has placed Carole Harker as Recruitment Manager at Oldham based Innovative Technology Ltd.

Since its foundation in 1992, Innovative Technology has become Europe's largest manufacturer of bank note validators and has earned a reputation as one of the leading suppliers around the world. It is a truly international business with subsidiaries in Spain, Germany, USA, Brazil, Columbia and Russia and a satellite office in China. The company's products are also distributed by 14 other companies worldwide.

Case study details

RECRUITMENT MANAGER

Candidate: Carole Harker

Organisation: Innovative Technology

www.innovative-technology.co.uk

Based: Oldham, UK

Position: Recruitment Manager

Cork Griffiths

141 Stockport Road

Marple

Cheshire

SK6 6AF

T: 0161 427 8821

F: 0161 484 6080

www.corkgriffiths.co.uk

Reporting to the MD, Carole has been with the company since May 2006 and is really enjoying working within its challenging environment. She comes from an engineering background so this position is ideal as she deals with a very specific market - recruiting for the design and development sector of the company. Most of the employees she recruits are for the middle management tier of the organisation.

When asked about the service Carole had received with Cork Griffiths, her first word was "amazing". She dealt directly with MD, Paul Griffiths whom she described as "very personable".

When Carole first contacted Cork Griffiths, they responded positively to her requirements within 24 hours which, she explained, made her feel valued. "They stood out from the rest and it didn't feel like I was dealing with the usual, run of the mill recruitment company."

Carole went on to say: "The overall service was extraordinary and there was a huge feeling of trust between us. I would definitely recommend Cork Griffiths as they stand out and are streets ahead" she finished.

(Pictured left: Paul Griffiths)

